How to install This npm run install --save - save - found in this repository - manually cd./services sudo make build cd./services/AdobeBridgeCC2019902x86x64MultilingualPreActivatedBkeygen Free Download sudo make install This will add this service in System/Services/Adobe Bridge A: I have seen this error, but usually it does not stop the service from working. Usually, it is because of a corrupted file. I suggest that you "reset" the Adobe Bridge and start over. Open the "Services/Adobe Bridge", and remove the service using "Remove" from the context menu. When you run the service again it may complain about a damaged config file, but it will be safe to "resolve" it. Q: javascript - how to use window.loaded in chrome extension? I'm trying to make a chrome extension which loads html on to a "content_frame" when the browser is ready. window.onload was documented to use in extensions, and works great. However, I'm also trying to use window.loaded as the document is loaded instead of waiting for a call to the javascript function (as it is implemented in jQuery). How do I do this? A: If you have access to the page's DOM after it loads, you can use the DOMContentLoaded event. Q: How to write mailto html link in Outlook without attachment? I'm trying to send an HTML formatted email that has both a plain text and an HTML-formatted body. I can get the plain text to work perfectly but I cannot get the HTML formatted version to work. Example: I have an HTML page on my website that contains a link to our phone number. The Outlook web recipient view shows it normally (with a link to the document) but when I take a copy of the message, it takes the link and creates the attachment. I did look through the HTML and/or CSS and I cannot see what is creating the problem. Here is an example of one of the links 1cbb36666d
